

Field House

The School of Mines is planning an addition to the PE Center to expand practice facilities and offices. This addition is necessary to prepare for replacement of the Old Gym and to accommodate the fitness needs of Hardrocker students and student-athletes.

- Why is this project important? The Old Gym, which is used for intramural activities, was built in 1928. Maintenance has not been able to keep pace with the deterioration of the nearly 80-year-old building, raising the need for a replacement facility for the many intramural and other athletic activities School of Mines students participate in.
